

In this article, I want to show you how to create user accounts and groups in Mac OS X. When I say Mac OS X, I mean Apple Laptops and Desktop. User Accounts are accounts that allow users that belong to the same department to share data and files together without any intervention from third parties. Follow the illustration displayed below to see how this can be done.

If you have any question while you are trying to do this, feel free to reach out to me through the comment box.

Share on:

WhatsApp

Share on FacebookShare on TwitterShare on LinkedInShare on PinterestShare on Reddit

Sharing is caring.