

Some of us do you Android devices but we are not getting the best out of them. This is because we never know some of the codes that we need to know in order to get the best out of our Android device.

In this article, I want to show us some of the codes that will allow you to have total control over your Android phones. Some of these shortcuts for Android phones users will allow you to grab your IMEI numbers and track your Android phones when it gets lost. You can also track your phones and repair them without taking them to your technician again.

In this article, I want to show us some of the codes that will allow you to have total control over your Android phones. Some of these shortcuts for Android phones users will allow you to grab your IMEI numbers and track your Android phones when it gets lost. You can also track your phones and repair them without taking them to your technician again.

What you just need to do for me is that you make sure that you share this article with as many people as possible.

*#06#-Android phones users can use this shortcode to get your IMEI number. This is the unique production number given to your phone from the factory. You may need this number when you need to track your lost phone or prove the identity of your phone.

the*#0*#-Enter the service menu

#4636#-Android phones users can use this shortcode to get basic phone information, usage statistics and battery

#34971539#-Detailed camera information

#273282*255*663282#-Immediate backup of all media files

#197328640#-Enable test mode for service

#232339#-Wireless LAN tests

#0842#-Backlight/vibration test

#2664#- You can use this shortcode as well when you need to test the touch screen whether it is working or not.

#1111#-FTA software version (1234 in the same code will give PDA and Firmware version)

*#12580*369#-Software and hardware info

*#9090#-Diagnostic configuration

*#872564#-USB logging control

*#9900#-System dump mode

*#301279#-HSDPA/HSUPA Control Menu

*#7465625#-You may also need this shortcode when you need to view phone lock status

#7780#- You will use this amazing shortcutcode when you need to reset the/data partition to factory state.

*2767*3855#-Format device to factory state (will delete everything on the phone)

##7764726-Hidden service

Share on:
WhatsApp